

Kaiserslautern Cat

Imagine this: you are in the Army overseas on a base in Kaiserslautern. Maybe you are even alone, except for the cat you love. You had him micro chipped there. When finally, you return home, you bring your cat back, all the way from Germany.

But then your cat gets lost in Missouri. Now it is Christmas time, and yeah, you are back home, but now you are without part of your family - your cat.

The good news is that we have your cat! The bad news is he is cold, thin, very hungry, and we can't find you!

This older cat has been huddled up under a trailer in Labadie for 2 weeks. Some great folks got him to come out today and brought him to us. He's a neutered male brown/black (marbled) tabby. He ate ravenously, very thin. Now he's resting comfortably, and we know he's a VIP kitty.

His chip registers to an army base in Kaiserslautern, Germany, and was installed in April of 1997 to a soldier in Army 64th Medical Detachment Veterinary Services ACF Unit 23103.

He's a Military Cat brought home from Germany, and we need to try to get him home before Christmas! In the picture, his mouth is open because he was still licking his chops after a much-needed meal.

Please help us get him home for Christmas. Do you know of a soldier missing his cat? Or maybe you know a soldier who was stationed in Kaiserslautern who might know? Please call us at 636-583-4300.
